Q3: Where in the UK is your organisation based (England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland)?

England

PAGE 2: Third party campaigning

Q4: Do you agree with the Government that there is a perception of 'undue influence' by third parties during election periods? Can you name examples of when you have seen this happen in previous elections?

Do not agree. Cannot give examples of this happening.

Q5: Where do you think the line between issue focussed campaigning and campaigning for the electoral success of a party or candidate should fall? Can you name examples? E.g. Should a document setting out what parties or candidates think about a policy issue - but not calling for the electorate to vote for a party or candidate - be caught by regulation?

Q6: Which campaigning activities do you think should be regulated? Which do you think should not be regulated? E.g. Do you think staffing costs or opinion polls should be subject to regulation?

NO

Q7: How do you think appropriate thresholds for registration should be judged? What threshold do you think is appropriate? For info, the Government is currently proposing changing the threshold from £10,000 to £5,000 in England, and from £5,000 to £2,000 in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

£10,000 is appropriate. NO LESS

Q8: How do you think the spending limit for non-party campaigning should be judged? Should there be a limit? What if any cap should there be? E.g. The previous limit was 5% of the political party spending limit. Do you think a proportion of political party limits is an appropriate way to decide? What other ways might there be of deciding?

Respondent skipped this question

Q9: Do you think non-party campaigning in coalition should be restricted? How do you think non-party campaigners working in coalitions should be regulated?

Don't know

Q10: Do you think that non-party campaigning organisations should be limited on what they can spend in a single constituency? Do you think accounting for spending in individual constituencies is workable?

Respondent skipped this question

Q11: Do you think that the devolved nations should have different registration thresholds and spending limits to England? How should these be set / determined? NB please specify whether your organisation campaigns in any or all of the devolved nations

Respondent skipped this question

Q12: What should the reporting requirements for non-party campaigners be? Where should the balance between transparency and bureaucracy fall?

Respondent skipped this question

Q13: How long should the regulated period for non-party campaigning be? How should the length of this period be arrived at?

Respondent skipped this question

PAGE 3: Any final thoughts?

Q14: Please share any other thoughts your organisation has for the Commission on Civil Society and Democratic Engagement.

I think the GAGGING LAW is also to stop people like myself and my daughter from campaigning against INJUSTICE and trying to get the Government Authorities to do what they are required to do BY LAW.
